

Female economic participation fuels prosperity

Energy-reliant economies need to include more women in the workforce to thrive

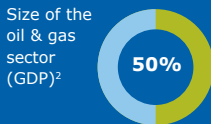

What can be done to diversify the energy sector?

● by companies ● by governments ● by companies & governments ● by others

Saudi Arabia

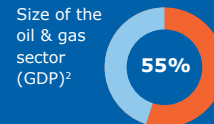

Population
31,742,308

GDP per capita⁴
$20,029

Qatar

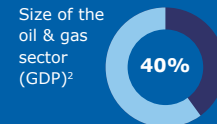

Population
2,446,328

GDP per capita⁴
$59,331

UAE

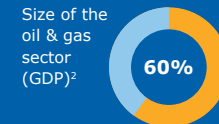

Population
9,121,167

GDP per capita⁴
$37,622

Kuwait

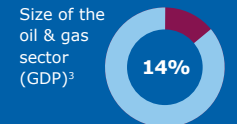

Population
4,513,143

GDP per capita⁴
$25,139

Norway

Population
5,277,762

GDP per capita⁴
$70,812

Source:

¹ Labor force participation rate, female (% of female population ages 15+) (World Bank figures revised in March 2017 based on modeled ILO estimate).
² Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC), 2016 data.

³ National Budget 2018, Ministry of Finance, Norway.
⁴ GDP per capita (current US$), World Bank national accounts data, and OECD National Accounts data files, 2016 data.

Timeline of projects enhancing female participation in the workforce and economic diversification

